PROJECTS

9jaModel Website

9ja model is a simple website that creates an online presence for the business. The site states the business achievements, goals and also shows off their beautiful models that the business exists for. The website is currently live can be found here.

Notes Application

A simple lightweight NodeJS application that allows the user add and delete notes right from the command-line interface. Other features include reading and listing all notes created by the user. This project is open source and the code is hosted on github.

Exercise Tracker

Built entirely in JavaScript (React and NodeJS), this is an application that allows the user create, read, update, delete and track each exercise. The source code can be found on github.

EXPERIENCE

Programmer II

I worked diligently as a programmer in Ahmadu Bello University developers, ABUdevs. I contributed tirelessly to the day-to-day activities in the club which bolstered the presence of Information Technology on the campus. I also assisted the Chief Programmer in keeping the club website up and running without hitches.

Secretary (Community Development Service Group)

I ensured proper dissemination of all group activities to the relevant authorities, made sure all paperwork concerning the group were complete and up to date. I shouldered the responsibility of making relevant decision that directly affected all group members, this, I carried out efficiently. I also organized and effectively executed the group projects while ensuring all group members were informed and in line to carry out tasks dished out to them.

Software Development Instructor (HiiT PLC)

I oversaw and actively passed on the knowledge of software development I have garnered so far to enthusiastic learners who were new in the industry. I made sure these learners were well aware of industry standards and up to date on new technologies driving the web. I also actively worked in consultancy and delivered promptly on all software development tasks given to me by my superiors.
